

REVELATION OF WHOLENESS

I offer this class as an opportunity for those who are ready and willing to change perception and transform the memories of the life experiences and beliefs that have imprisoned us, up until now.

“Here’s Looking at You Kid” the Emmy Award winning documentary film about the lives of Maggie Cole and her son, Rob will be used as part of this experience.

Rev. Dr. Michael Beckwith, Senior Minister of the Agape International Spiritual Center says “the past is only alive when we bring it to the present moment”. When I heard this the first time, I began to realize how much power I had given to the experiences of my past, especially those charged with trauma, pain and shame.

This class/workshop is an opportunity to examine how we have held the past in place, given it power and referenced it and continue to be victims of it. We will explore the possibilities of wholeness, a reframing of our memory, a conscious decision and choice to see God’s presence at every point of our life journey, past and present, and claim the Truth.

“The pain of our transformation is in equal proportion to our resistance to life”                      Rev. Dr. Michael Beckwith

Presented: As 6 week class, 2 hrs per session/day long or weekend workshop

Comments:

“While always being totally prepared with a plan, Maggie is completely open to what is needed in the moment, leaving the space for tremendous awakening and transformation”.

“This class enabled me to see myself differently and to formulate a vision for my future”.

“Don’t change a thing. This has been one of the most enlightening classes I’ve ever taken. I will never be the same, thank God”.
